Re: Dill et al. v. JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., Case No. 19-cv-10947 (KPF)

Dear Judge Failla:

As counsel to Plaintiffs, I am writing on behalf of both side to update our last letters to the Court.

In connection with this Court's February 21, 2020, order with respect to discovery, on March 3, 2020, JPMorgan Chase ("JPM") made a production of several hundred pages of documents and also sent Plaintiffs a letter responding to questions Plaintiffs' counsel asked about JPM's witnesses' declarations in support of the motion to compel arbitration.

Plaintiffs are now reviewing JPM's letter and the documents so far provided. JPM has also agreed to let Plaintiffs inspect next week certain original documents.

JPM and Plaintiffs are continuing to discuss other documents that Plaintiffs have requested, in order to see whether they can reach agreement on these discovery matters, or at least narrow any differences. In view of this progress, the parties request a two week adjournment of the March 12 conference, before which they will submit a more detailed report, and request a revision of the current briefing schedule. We will jointly submit a new briefing schedule after we confer further.

With respect to the week of March 23, if that is convenient to the Court, plaintiffs' counsel are free, and JPM's counsel will be in Albany on March 23-24 for a Court of Appeals argument, is unavailable on March 26, and has a noon hearing on March 27 before another S.D.N.Y. judge. We are all flexible the week of March 30.
